Participate in Public meetings on the POCD

The POCD or Plan of Conservation and Development sets the town's policy "roadmap" for preservation and growth looking forward towards the next decade. The POCD establishes goals for open space preservation and natural resource conservation, balanced by identifying future economic development growth opportunities in our commercial districts, such as around our major train stations; expanding housing options to retain our seniors and attract young professionals; and outlining major infrastructure investments needed for future wastewater management, drainage, transportation, and sea level rise mitigation. Fairfield's POCD also allows the town to be eligible for discretionary state funding and is the necessary reference document for many Federal, State, and non-profit grant programs. The public workshops launch the public's input on recommended potential updates to Town policies that could better match future population needs with community goals.

Sign up Here for one of three upcoming meetings:

Three workshop dates are available:

Wednesday, January 29, 2020 at Sacred Heart University -West Campus, West Building Cafeteria at 3135 Easton Turnpike

Register here Sacred Heart.

Tuesday, February 4, 2020 at the Dolan School of Business Event Hall at 1073 N. Benson Road

Register here.Fairfield University.

Thursday, February 6, 2020 at Penfield Pavilion at 323 Fairfield Beach Road
